He will eventually shoot himself in the foot. He's on his way from what I'm hearing.

Linda, I have to agree with you for now...sure wish we didn't have to deal with him and his negative, public comments about the Library. Looking forward to our meeting with Tim Trainor this week. Connie

At this juncture, I continue to believe that ignoring him is the best. It's got to be very, very frustrating for him. I understand he ran me over the coals at the NH BOE meeting last week over 29 Oxford. He has to know that I have since heard about it. I have said nothing to him, which must be killing him. I do love his allegation, however, that Russ and I make a lot of money from our real estate dealings with the District!!!! If he starts badmouthing the rechartering without cowardly hiding behind some blog, I would certainly recommend changing our approach. Right now, I just don't have time for Ed Wiatr. Enjoy the rest of your weekend everyone.

Yes, you are probably right, Linda. Not sure what we can do about it. Should we try to discredit him at every opportunity? Publicly? Have to think about it some more. Connie

This is probably Ed. I guess this is what we can expect as we go forward with the rechartering.
